

The Big Happy Tree

By Gabriella
Shumbria

The Big Happy
Tree

The big happy tree was
as free as can be with birds in the sky, he lived by the sea.

Smiling and waving his limbs all around, he found his home and put his roots in the ground.

One day when the tree was soaking up sun, a ladybug flew by looking for fun. She was cute and small while he was happy and tall. They became friends, right
then, in the middle of fall.

The big happy tree was
the biggest of oaks, but he really loved the little ladybug's jokes. She flew all around his
roots and his crown.
From then on they played sun up to sun
down.

