

Andy makes pancakes

By Chloe Chen

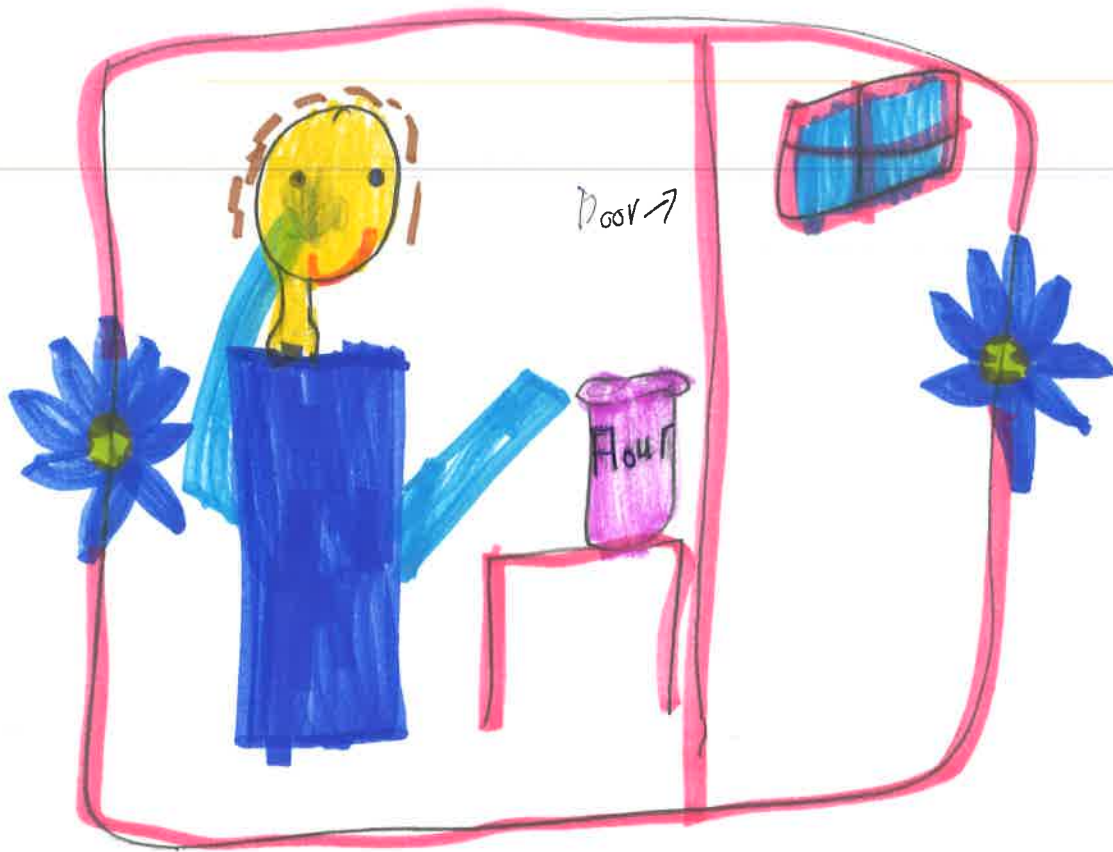

One day Andy, the cook, was making chocolate chip pancakes. He mixed butter, flour, milk, eggs, baking powder and chocolate chips in a bowl. Then he poured the batter onto a hot pan.

The pancakes started cooking. Now he flipped his pancake. It flew in the air and landed on his head! It covered his forehead, eyebrow and eye.

He tried to take it off, but some parts still stuck to his eye. "How can I take it off?" he wondered. Andy tried to scrape it off with a spatula. It was still stuck. Next, Andy tried to put ice on his eye, but it froze and still stuck.

Then Andy said, "I have an idea! I'll put flour on my eye to take it off." He went to the pantry to get some flour. He put it on his eye and pulled the dough off. Finally, it was gone!

Andy sat down and ate his pancakes. They were yummy!