

Once upon a time there was a boy named Andrew.
He was very kind. One day he went to his neighbour's house. Since he was very kind,

He wanted to give her something.

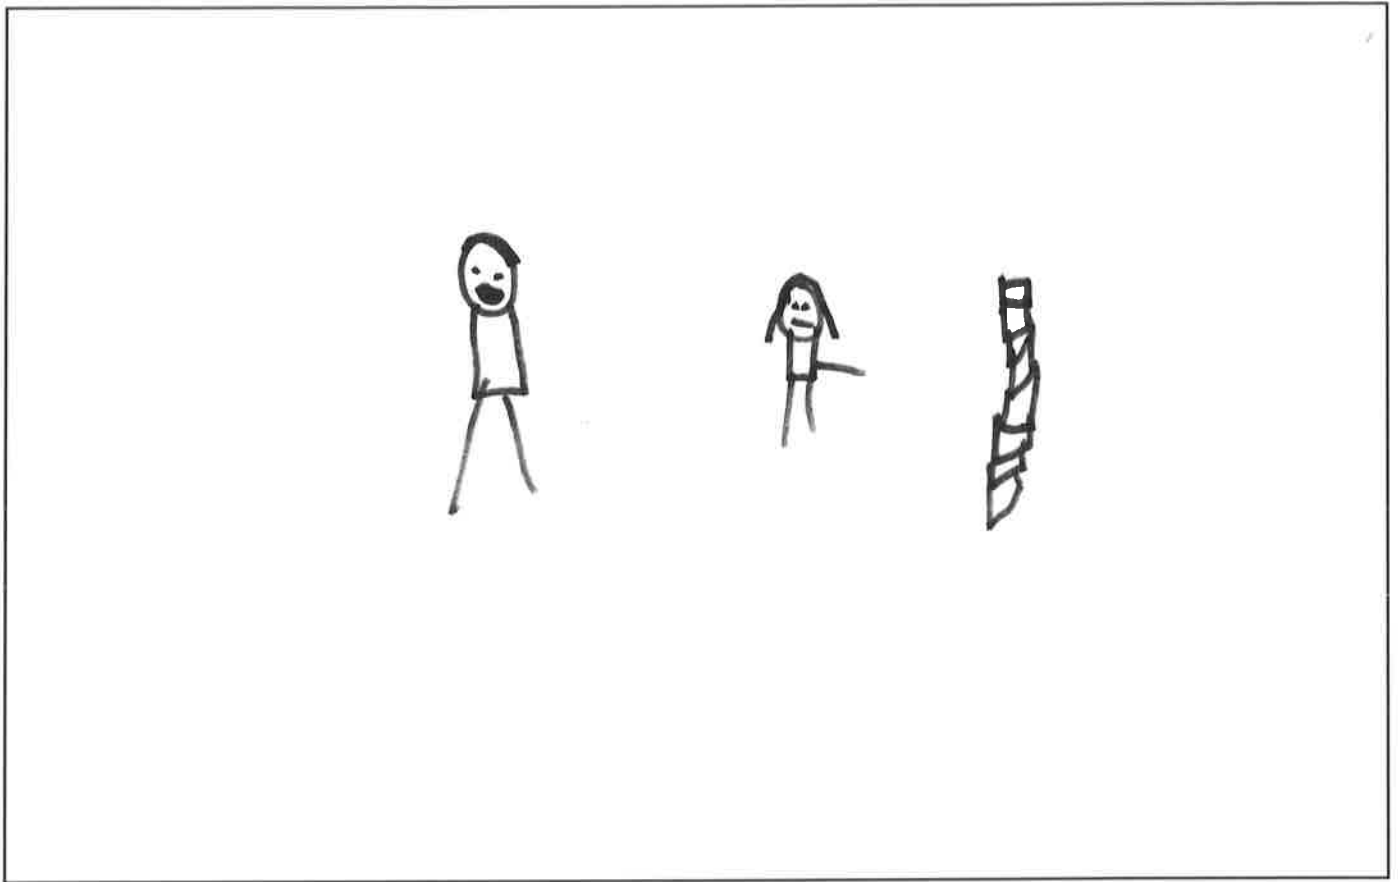

"They just moved here a couple days ago" He thought. So he went to the greenhouse for flowers. Then he went to the store for cookies. Then he finally went to his neighbour's house. She loved it. Next he went to the store again. He went down the jewelry aisle. This was a present for his mom. He wanted himself to make her a cake.

It was her birthday. She loved her gifts. SHE wanted to give him a gift. They Played:

Monopoly, Life, Payday, Catch
The Fox, And Giggle Wiggle.
He loved his present. Then They played Connect 4. He was glad.

That was a very kind story
indeed.
