

The Howling
Wolf

By Katelyn Gera

STARRING: Sunlight, LunarDawn, Thunderstrike, And more!!!

One day Sunlight was watching as her pack was walking to Harvestrock as the warriors walked behind. Lunardawn came up to her and asked, "Aren't you coming Sunlight?" "Yes, I was making sure everyone went with you!"

Sunlight trotted up to her pack and walked with Thunderstrike. "Hey Sunlight!"

The wolves continued to Harvestrock. Soon, they arrived meeting the three other packs.

"Welcome packs, this meeting was unsaid but...here we are." said Strokedflower.

“Ever since the winter left we’ve been doing better. So, we want to bring the packs together.”
said Sundrop. Barks of surprise rose from the packs. “Why?” said Mapleflower. Buttercup silenced the crowd. Buttercup barked, “Listen! You may not like this but...it has to be done.
Meeting is over. “
All the packs walked back to camp. Groves of anger came from Gravepaw. “Shhh!” warned Silvershy.

In the morning Thunderstike woke Sunlight. "We have training, don't be late!"

"There you are Sunlight! I got worried!" barked Brownfur.

"Now let's review Sunlight, pretend your pack is out of food. What do you do?" Brownfur asked. "I would gather other warriors go out and hunt till we find the right amount of food for the pack. Then return without eating." "Good!" howled Brownfur.

Lunardawn howled, everyone raced to the meeting rock.

“Today we’re gathering with the other packs and going to the watering hole. There we will make a camp for all the packs. “ Then some wolves asked will we howl? HOW will we howl together?” “What do you mean howl together?” asked Lunardawn “IN PEACE, it’s gonna be loud. I’ll talk with the other packs. Meeting dismissed. “

It was night they howled then rested. The next morning they set off to the watering hole. Hours later they arrived. The three packs where there to greet them. “Hello!” wolves howled. “ We started getting food. There’s TONS of it!” said strokedflower. “Now let’s have all the packs look for food and things to help us. “

Wolves gathered with supplies. "Good job!" said Strokedflower.

The wolves howled in victory. Everyone so happy they didn't care they were all now together.
